Personalized support.

We're always available by phone to answer any questions you may have about your medication, side effects and more. Our personalized support doesn't stop there.

Virtual visits let you connect face-to-face with your care team. Ask for a real-time video chat with an expert in your condition. Your personal, confidential appointment gives you as much time as you need to ask questions from the privacy of your home. You can even record your session to review later or to share with your caregivers.

Our video series can help you feel more connected to others with the same condition and give you a chance to learn more about your treatment. You'll be able to see videos from other patients with your condition. You can hear right from them about their treatment and how they are doing on it. Video libraries are currently only available for select conditions.

Working with your pharmacist or nurse

Continued conversations.

Tell your pharmacist or nurse about any changes or complications in your therapy, such as:

- Side effects
- Forgetting to take your medication

Monitor your health.

If you need help with any other health concerns, your pharmacist or nurse can help you find wellness management programs to help you stay on track.

Follow your care plan.

If you're part of a clinical management program, follow your care plan and tell your pharmacist or nurse about any new medications you're taking.

Staying on track

Quick and easy refills.

With a phone call reminder a few days before your next refill, it's easy for you to fill your prescription. You can even sign up for text message reminders online or by phone.

Save time and money.

Optum Specialty Pharmacy can only fill specialty medications. Use your home delivery or retail pharmacy for your non-specialty prescriptions. If you're looking to save money on your medications, finding lower-cost options and filling your non-specialty prescriptions by mail can help.
